biological tolerance values for working materials (Biologische Arbeitsstoff Toleranz Werte (BAT))

The maximum permissible quantity of a chemical compound or its metabolites, or any deviation from the norm of biological parameters induced by those substances in exposed humans.

Source: